Frank McKinnon, of the Montreal Ski Club, won the Canadian cross-country championship yesterday, winning from the finest list of competitors that has ever run here, and finishing in the splendid time of 1 hour, 10 minutes and 20 seconds. This time was all the more remarkable considering the scarcity of snow over the course which tended to make it extremely slippery over the frozen crust.

The run of approximately 9 to 10 miles started at the Mount Royal club house of the Montreal Ski Club, over the Westmount mountain down the Cote des Neiges jumping hill, continued around Cote des Neiges, and Northmount, over Outremont mountain, by the McGill tower, and over the cross roads to finish at the club house.

The feature of the race was the running of Frank and Peter McKinnon and Len Lehan on the long hill by the ski jumps, these contestants taking the hill at full speed.

G. Schelderup, of the Cliffside Ski Club of Ottawa, finished second, his time being 3 minutes and 13 seconds slower than Frank McKinnon. Peter McKinnon, a brother of the champion, was third, while Ken Oliver of the Mount Royal Ski Club, who won the Canadian cross-country championship last year, finished fourth.

The competitors all finished in good shape and at 2.30 about 60 had lunch at the club house of the Montreal Club.

The best ten to finish and their times follow:

Frank McKinnon, Montreal Ski Club, first; time, 1.10.20.
