

14. European Junior Championships, March 2-4, 1973

The European Junior Championships at Leningrad, Russia had been set as one of our major goals of the season, but our motivation died in the atmosphere that surrounded these races. The trip turned out to be the most frustrating and depressing week of our lives. We had problems with the food, water, tracks, communications, transportation, etc., etc., but above everything, we found the atmosphere extremely depressing. We found it very hard to get up for the races and none of our results were up to par, not even Herbert's or Roseanne's relay races. As a point of interest, I can mention that

Sharon and Shirley Firth were 1-2 hours too old to race in these Championships, as their birth date happened to be the cut-off date for the championships.
